

bolex baby

sit now in my lap purring like a cat sweet leather and chrome I see the world through you and I will wind your spring focus on infinity irises dialating

you're overexposing

and I don't want to live without you in my life my devine device

I prayed to an angel to send me a lifelong love maybe it may be
my bolex baby

Do now what I say you belong to me I'll put my hands anywhere I want to on your bady

And no one else will touch you except anyone I want to you will look at what I say don't make me lay my hands on you you've ohly got one eye and can only stand w/a crutch my apparatus

no matter what I do or say or how badly I want you you'll never fecognize me

Whatever I feed you you will take up you need me like I need you we'll never, ever breakup and you will stay strong never do nothing wrong never ever break down because you're counted on and now you're overcranked and it feels like you're gonna blow time moves in slow mo

I've waited patiently for a cinemachine
you're a toy to me

you mean the world to me I give you everything but you don't know I exist you're just a fucking machine if only you could see if only you knew (if you only knew) you're evrything to me I'm nothing without you

you divide my time in a coiled-up tight line you light up my sight

if God said that I could wish for one magical gift I asked for him to grant me
